An innovative approach to healing in the workplace

Life disruptions cause grief that affects work.

Common and challenging life disruptions affecting employees include:

- Death of a loved one
- Divorce
- Caregiving
- Personal illness/injury
- Career transitions

Grief causes temporary neurochemical changes in the brain that can interfere with job performance and overall well-being.

Grief is costing American companies.

- Unsupported grief can result in an estimated 30 lost workdays/year and can cost employers $225.8 billion each year. (CDC)

- Grief costs employers an estimated $113.27 billion in reduced productivity and on-the-job errors. (Grief Recovery Institute)

- More than 50% of employees will consider leaving their job when their employer does not provide support after a loved one's death. (National Council for Palliative Care and Dying Matters)

Ignored or mishandled grief leads to:

- High rates of presenteeism and absenteeism
- Lost productivity
- Turnover
- Weakened morale
- On-the-job errors
